

i am a flight attendant for united airlines. i feel that it will pose a safety concern for passengers. it is hard enough to get people to be aware and pay attention as it is. i feel that allowing the use of cellphones in flight will only compound this problem. there is also evidence that cellphone use can interfere with cockpit communications. do we need to take a chance, just so people can stay connected for a flight? what did people do before cellphones? life did go on when they weren't phone available. please do not allow the use of cellphones on airplanes!!!! thank you. rachael strauss